About the author...

I'm Bella! A third year vet med student studying at Jesus College in the University of Cambridge.

Three years ago, when I was applying to vet school, I realised there was almost no information for prospective vet students that was reliable, free, and all in one place. So, I created soontobeavet.com, in an effort to improve widening participation (I'm an independent student, with no parental backing) and provide clear help to anyone applying to vet school!
